

Episode II - SF Women's Film Festival Podcast

Festival founder Scarlett Shepard talks about upcoming SFWFF events and interviews Danae Ringlemann from IndieGoGo.com.

- San Francisco Women's Film Festival –April 10-13, 2008
<http://www.sfwff.com>

EVENTS:

- Join SFWFF and Soroptimist International for a Candlelight Vigil to raise awareness about human sex trafficking. The Vigil will take place on the steps of City Hall on 1/11 from 7:00-8:00 PM in San Francisco. For more information visit: <http://www.sfwff.com/pages/calendar>
- Networking Happy Hour for Artists and Business Professionals at Madrone Lounge on 1/ 17 at 6:30-8:30 PM. SFWFF invites you to join us at our networking happy hour event. This is a celebratory evening designed to bring together movers and shakers in the Bay Area art community. Network and socialize to gain valuable personal, professional and creative connections. To RSVP email: events@sfwff.com
- SFWFF is co-sponsoring and participating at this year's thinkBIG on 2/1-2/3 at Stanford University.
thinkBIG is a conference on international women's health and human rights. For more information about the conference visit: <http://thinkbig.stanford.edu/>
- SFWFF is hosting an evening with Film Agent and Author Rima Greer on 2/22 from 7:00-8:00 PM at Variety Screening Room in SF.
See the real Hollywood stripped of its glitz, glamour and bright lights, through the eyes of a film agent. Rima Greer a successful film agent and author of The Real, Low Down, Dirty Truth About Hollywood Agenting opens her phone sheet and reveals how agents, writers, and directors function in a world of producers, development executives, and studio executives. To RSVP email: events@sfwff.com
- Podcast Interview with Danae Ringlemann
SFWFF podcast spotlights Danae Ringlemann, co-founder and finance chief of IndieGoGo.com. Danae co-founded the company to address the fundraising challenges facing independent filmmakers. IndieGoGo.com is an online social marketplace connecting filmmakers with their audiences to fund the future of film. The platform provides filmmakers with tools for project funding, recruiting, and promotion. For more information visit: <http://www.indiegogo.com>
- Please send questions, feedback, topic ideas to: info@sfwff.com